Custom Awards are an essential part of any professional field. They serve as a symbol of honor to those employees in your office who have displayed incredible service and positively impact the office and those colleagues with whom they come into daily contact. Other times custom awards symbolize the successes of an employee who has affected not only the company for whom they work but across the entire field or sector of business as a whole.

David Moritz founded Society Awards in 2007. From the outset, Moritz envisioned Society Awards as the preeminent high-end trophy design and manufacturing company.
