

IN THE PUBLIC EYE

9.6 POUNDS

The award's weight

HEAVY METAL

The hand giving the peace sign—modeled after the show's rocking logo—is high-density resin cast and mirror silver electroplated before being placed on a black crystal base.

13 IN.

The award's height

$100,000

The cash prize the winner receives in addition to the trophy and a record deal

FROM FANS TO FRIENDS

In its first season, the show did not award winners a trophy. Fans at Society Awards, including CEO David Mortiz and Creative Director Gabrielle Rein, contacted the show to offer up the company's services. The two organizations collaborated on a design, and as Mortiz says, they've been friends ever since!

4 IN.

The award's width

THE VOICE AWARD

2011

The first year The Voice—which was modeled after The Voice Holland—aired on American television, minus the signature “peace sign” award. It was originally called The Voice of America.

GIRL POWER

This season, season 11, is the first time that The Voice has featured two female coaches: Miley Cyrus and Alicia Keys. In previous seasons, one of the four coaches was a woman.

3-3

Adam Levine and Blake Shelton—the only coaches who have been on all 12 seasons of the show—are tied at 3 for the number of season winners they have coached.