The 71st Golden Globe celebration kicks off Hollywood's 2014 award season on Sunday. And while we don't know who will leave with a trophy, we can say who will arrive with the prize.

Inside Hollywood

In 1943, as a way to gain access to movie stars, eight entertainment reporters from other countries formed an organization, known today as the Hollywood Foreign Press Association (HFPA). They thought that giving out awards might provide better access. It did.

The first GOLDEN GLOBE event was held in 1944. It was a luncheon. The winners got a paper scroll.

New and Improved

Since 2009, Golden Globe winners have received a statuette redesigned by Society Awards. The company's CEO, DAVID MORITZ, said he worked with the HFPA for two years to get the award just right.

Who Votes

Golden Globe winners selected by 93 members of the Hollywood Foreign Press Association, compared to...

Oscar winners voted on by about 6,000 members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

When a few officers stopped by to see the town's new warehouse, the younger Moritz thought their badges looked drab. "I notice that sort of thing," he said. So he made them new ones.

- Colors are created by a cloisonné technique. Enamel is fired, then ground to a smooth surface.
- Rhodium plating (silver color) - Highly reflective, durable metal, called a noble metal, because of its resistance to corrosion.
- 24k gold electroplating - Solid brass, die-struck (the same process used to mint coins)
- Flaking gold paint - Solid brass, die-struck (the same process used to mint coins)

In 1955 she self-published a novel titled "Forever Damned." A copy on eBay is signed to FRED GEHBARDT, the writer and producer of the 1963 sci-fi/horror film "The Phantom Planet."

In 1946, the association's then-president, MARINA CISTERNAS, had the idea for a trophy showing a film strip wrapped around a globe.

Not too much more is known about CISTERNAS. She was born in Chile in 1907.

She had her photo taken with GRACE KELLY on the set of "To Catch a Thief"...

... and at a restaurant with CARY GRANT.
